

WILSON INDIGNANT OVER TELEGRAM

Makes it Plain He Wants No "Disloyal" American
to Vote for Him

ANSWERS J. A. O'LEARY

Executive to Give Country Definite Reasons Why He is Asking for Another Term

GIVES SUMMARY OF ATTITUDE

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Sept. 29.—President Wilson made it plain tonight that he wants no "disloyal" American to vote for him. He expressed indignation over a telegram from Jeremiah A. O'Leary of New York, president of the American Truth Society, accusing him of being pro-British and saying he had failed to obtain compliance with American rights.

The president sent Mr. O'Leary a short telegram which officials indicated Mr. Wilson had desired to put in stronger language. His message follows:

"Your telegram received. I would feel deeply mortified to have you or anybody like you vote for me. Since you have access to many disloyal Americans and I have not, I will ask you to convey this message to them."

Mr. O'Leary's telegram, given out by the president follows:

"Again we greet you with a popular disapproval of your pro-British policies. Last year from the 23rd New York congressional district and now from your own state and from the voters of your party Senator Martine won because the voters of New Jersey do not want any trucking to the British Empire nor do they approve of dictatorship over Congress."

"Your foreign policies, your failure to secure compliance with all American rights, your leniency with the British Empire, your approval of war loans, the ammunition traffic, are issues in this campaign. Do you know that William S. Bennett, a Republican congressman, ran in the Democratic primary in the 23rd New York congressional district and polled 36 per cent of the total Democratic vote against his regular Democratic opponent, and the Anglo-manias and British interests may control newspapers but they don't control votes? The people may be readers but they are not followers of the newspapers."

"When will you respond to these evidences of popular disapproval of your policies by action? The Martine election and Bennett vote prove you have lost support amongst Democrats."

"Every vote for Martine was a vote against you as was every Democratic vote that went for Mr. Bennett in the Democratic primaries in the 23rd Congressional district."

The president's attitude toward the campaign and toward some of the issues before the country were made known here today. It was learned that in his speech at Shadow Lawn tomorrow and in subsequent addresses here he intends to give the country definite reasons why he is asking for another term.

Following is an authoritative summary of his campaign attitude:

The president will adhere strictly to his determination not to enter into personalities or into political controversy with Charles Evans Hughes. All the speeches he will make away from Shadow Lawn will be delivered before nonpartisan organizations and will be devoted entirely to a discussion of public questions. By inference they will have a political effect.

At present American voters are entitled to know, he believes, what the Republicans would do at present in Mexico, what attitude they would take toward belligerent nations in Europe, whether they would appeal the federal reserve act, the tariff law, the rural credits act, the tariff commission bill, the eight hour law for railroad employees, the child labor law, and other legislative acts of the Democrats.

It became known today that Mr. Wilson has decided not to dwell on the settlement of the railroad strike question as much as on other issues. The president believes that satisfactory settlements of pending international questions can only be embarrassed by partisan discussions of them.

For this reason he is not expected to reply directly to the challenge issued by Mr. Hughes that he deny or confirm the charge that John Lind went to Mexico with orders to oust General Huerta. On this subject Mr. Wilson takes the position that Hughes was ousted, that the Democratic administration opposed him consistently and that, therefore, no reply is necessary.

GERMANY TO PERSEVERE UNTIL VICTORIOUS

CHANCELLOR VON BETHMANN-HOLL-WEG MAKES REICHSTAG SPEECH

Declares England is Above All Germany's "Most Egotistical, Fiercest and Most Obstinate Enemy."

Berlin, via London, Sept. 29.—Germany will persevere until victory is hers, the Reichstag was told yesterday by Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, according to the text of his speech published here today. The chancellor declared this year's harvest had made Germany's position much more secure than was the case last year.

In his attack upon Great Britain he declared that that country was breaking one international law after another and was above all Germany's "most egotistical, fiercest and most obstinate enemy."

"A German statesman," he said, "who would hesitate to use against this enemy every available instrument of battle that would really shorten this war—such a statesman should be hanged." The chancellor declared his contempt for those circulating reports that all Germany's means of fighting were not being employed to the fullest possible extent. He added that in order "to disappoint the enemy who is on watch for every breach of our inner determination," he would not give details.

"When in August 1914," he went on, "we had to draw the sword we knew we had to protect our hearths and homes against a mighty and almost overwhelming coalition, ardent, and until then unknown and often ignored, patriotism flamed up in all hearts defying death and certain victory. Today after two years of fighting, struggling, suffering and dying, we know more than ever before that there is only one watchword, namely, persevere and win. We will win. Last winter there was pusillanimous anxiety as to whether our foodstuffs would suffice. They have sufficed. This year's harvest makes us much more secure than was the case last year."

"Germany will not be permitted to think of peace while her house is burning. She must extinguish the fire."

After the chancellor had concluded the reichstag adjourned until October 5.

Speech Meets Mixed Reception
Berlin, Sept. 29.—(via London)—The speech of Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the imperial chancellor, in the reichstag meets with a mixed reception in the newspapers, the feeling being variously expressed that he placed such restraint on himself that his utterances lacked definiteness.

Consider Speech Mild
London, Sept. 30.—All the morning newspapers devote a major part of their editorial space to a discussion of the speech of Imperial Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg in the Reichstag contrasting its mild tone with former utterances. The editorials all assert that aside from the attacks on England the chancellor said little that was new and perhaps disappointed those who expected him to make more extended peace overtures.

TILES SUIT AGAINST CHICAGO TELEPHONE CO.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—Suit for $8,000,000 damages was filed here today against the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. by the Chicago Tunnel Co., which operates an automatic telephone company here. The suit which charges breach of contract is the outgrowth of the failure of the American company to consummate a deal for the purchase of the automatic for $6,300,000. The Tunnel company asks damages, expenses and interest.

ENGINEMEN END MEET

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 29.—Members of the legislative committee of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers of Illinois returned to their homes today after a conference of several days in which they outlined legislation the brotherhood expects the next Illinois general assembly to consider.

questions, an authoritative denial was made here today to statements that James W. Gerard, American ambassador to Germany is coming here to discuss reports that Germany is about to renew submarine attacks upon merchant vessels. It was said here that Mr. Gerard was returning to the United States only because he greatly needs a rest.

The president received word today that John M. Parker, progressive candidate for vice president plans to make speeches in opposition to Mr. Hughes. At first, administration officials said, the president had heard from Mr. Parker but later it was stated that this was a mistake and that a letter announcing his intention had been sent by Mr. Parker to Bainbridge Colby of New York.

OKLAHOMA MOB HANGS TWO NEGROES

Minister Frustrates First Attempt to Lynch One of the Negroes

LARGER MOB FORMS

Victims Implicated in Jail Delivery in Which a Deputy Sheriff Was Killed

HANGED ON "HOLY GROUND"

NOWATA, Okla., Sept. 29.—Two negroes, accused of being implicated in the killing of deputy sheriff James Gibson, during a jail delivery here today, were taken from the jail by a mob tonight, and lynched in front of the courthouse.

A first attempt to lynch one of the negroes, immediately after the capture was frustrated by the Rev. Perry E. Pierce, a Methodist minister, who pleaded with the mob until the suspended negro was cut down unconscious, but alive. The mob dispersed, but public feeling was not allayed and the mob re-formed later with the intention of lynching the two men who had been returned to the jail.

Three negro prisoners affected an escape from the county jail late today. They were discovered in the act by Sheriff James May who was knocked down and robbed of his pistol. Gibson went to his aid and was shot to death.

It was only a few minutes after the negroes had gained their freedom that a mob bent on vengeance was in close pursuit. Two of the negroes took refuge in a house in the outskirts of Nowata, where they were surrounded and re-arrested. The third negro apparently made good his escape. One of the re-arrested negroes, John Foreman, alleged to have been the man who killed Gibson, was wounded when taken into custody and was not molested, but, the unwounded negro was seized by the mob, which had grown to large proportions and a parade through the principal streets began with the negro screaming for mercy, at a rope's end. When the mob reached the Methodist church, a large tree with spreading branches offered the opportunity which the rope around the negro's neck suggested.

"Let's lynch the negro on holy ground," shouted someone in the crowd. The negro was swung clear of the ground and was being choked to death when Mr. Pierce appeared, attracted from his study in the parsonage by the negro's screams. He rushed from the house into the midst of the crowd and began his pleadings for the seemingly doomed man's life. The mob paused in its work to hear what the minister had to say.

"Men I beseech you in the name of God not to desecrate this holy ground," pleaded Mr. Pierce in his opening statement. "Do not stain the name of our city by going on into this terrible affair."

With voice quivering with emotion and earnestness he demanded that the law be allowed to take its course. Five minutes the pastor spoke along these lines, until one of the mob leaders, turning to his fellows, said: "Men, Mr. Pierce is right. Take the negro back to jail and let the law take its course."

The mob, sobered by the impassioned words of the pastor, and the assumption of leadership taken by one of its members, led the negro back to jail.

Nowata was quiet following that episode but the quiet was only the lull before the storm.

Shortly after the dinner hour Foreman and the negro who had been rescued from the mob in the afternoon and who had given the name "Sunny" Powell to the jail authorities were taken from the jail by another and larger mob of citizens. Foreman was strung up to a lamp post near the courthouse and Powell was hanged from a tree a few feet distant. The sheriff was not at the jail when the mob sought entrance. The deputies left to guard the negroes were pushed aside and forced into submission.

SEN. LEWIS RECEIVES OVATION WHEN HE SPEAKS AT SEATTLE

Addresses Big Wilson and Marshall Meeting—Reviews Achievements of Administration.

Seattle, Wn., Sept. 29.—Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, who was elected to Congress from this state twenty years ago, and who left Seattle for Chicago fifteen years ago, received an ovation here tonight when he was introduced to address a big Wilson and Marshall meeting.

The senator reviewed the achievements of the Democratic administration and discussed Charles E. Hughes' criticism of the railroad settlement.

"Judge Hughes says there should have been arbitration. I answer, there was no law in existence providing for arbitration. There was no law to enforce any arbitration. I remind Judge Hughes that his party came into power after Cleveland at the end of the great Pullman Car Strike."

"They were also in power when the telegraphers had their universal strike. But his party passed no law to prevent a repetition of such strikes or to provide arbitration."

POLICE RUSE FORCES MRS. WARDE TO REVEAL HUSBAND'S WHEREABOUTS

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—A police ruse forced Mrs. Frank A. Warde to reveal today the whereabouts of her husband and he was arrested in Marshalltown, Ia., charged with embezzling $1,000 from his former employers here. Warde disappeared from Chicago Sept. 18 when he learned he was under suspicion and the police were unable to locate him. They sent a messenger to his home with instructions to say he could not deliver the message to anyone but Warde and when the boy came back he had learned Warde was employed in Marshalltown. George B. Kerr, the Chicago agent of a Waterbury, Conn., firm by whom Warde was employed said the amount missing was more than $15,000.

CHICAGO CLUB WOMEN ASK EMGARGO ON WHEAT AND FLOUR

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Resolutions asking an embargo on wheat and flour were adopted today at a meeting of club women, most of whom defended bakers here for raising the price of bread. The increase, they declared, was justified by war exports, crop shortage and added manufacturing expenses due to improved sanitary conditions.

At the same time officials in the office of U. S. District Attorney Clyne who are inquiring whether there was any illegal agreement among the bakers to raise prices called attention to quotations from European capitals. The fact that bread made from American flour is selling cheaper in London, Trieste, Lyons, Havre and other foreign cities than in the United States refutes the assertions that the war demand has justified higher prices. Joseph Fleming, assistant United States district attorney said.

FINDS PRESERVER MARKED "BREMEN"

Buoy Bears Name of German Submarine Expected at Atlantic Port

OFFICIALS UNDISTURBED

Capt. Hirsch States Preserver Could Not Have Belonged to Expected Submarine

REPORTS SIGHTING U-BOAT

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 29.—A life preserver marked "Bremen," the name of the German submarine merchantman which has been generally expected to arrive at some Atlantic Coast port for the past week or more was picked up on the ocean side of Cape Elizabeth today.

The name "Bremen" was stenciled in black letters two inches high on both sides of the buoy. On one side of the canvass covering was printed a small crown. Over this were the words "shut-marke" meaning patented, or trademark. Beneath the words "V. Epping Hoven, Wilhelmshafen." This indicated, apparently, the name of the maker.

The preserver seemed to be new and apparently had not been in the water a great length of time. It was stained with oil. An officer of the coast guard cutter service who examined the buoy said that if the preserver had been thrown overboard by some one thought to play a practical joke, he had done a very good job.

The preserver was well made and the lettering and the ink were of the best quality. The buoy was picked up at a small place known as Maiden Cove, by a ten-year-old lad, Frederick L. Lakeman, of Westbrook. A number of other persons were nearby at the time and saw the boy pick up the object from the beach near the water's edge. The buoy was taken to a newspaper office where it was photographed and examined by many seafaring men.

Officials Undisturbed

New London, Sept. 29.—Officials of the Eastern Forwarding Company, American agents for the German line of submarine merchantmen were undisturbed tonight over the report that a life preserver, marked "Bremen" had been picked up off the Maine coast. When asked if the preserver might have belonged to the long expected submarine, Capt. F. Hirsch said: "Impossible." He added that it was unlikely that the Bremen's preservers would be marked in the manner of the one found.

Reports Sighting U-Boat

Westerly, R. I., Sept. 29.—A fisherman at Pleasant View, near Watch Hill overlooking Long Island Sound reported tonight that he had seen with his marine glasses a large submarine proceeding in the direction of New London where the German submarine Bremen has been expected for more than a week. She was then 25 miles east of New London and showed on her mast a bright white light above a green light.

These lights according to the observer were the ones he had been told by Captain Robinson of the Westerly, would be carried by the German submarine, that the tug some days ago had been ordered to look for.

The submarine was unaccompanied and displayed no flag. The observer who professed to be familiar with the appearance of American submarines said she was of a different type from any he had seen. The boat was about two miles off shore and was going at a moderate speed. The sea was very choppy.

See U-Boat at New London

New London, Conn., Sept. 29.—No submarine has been seen in the waters adjacent to New London at a late hour tonight. Officials of the Eastern Forwarding company and the T. A. Scott Wrecking Co., agents in this country for the German line of undersea merchantmen, claimed they had no knowledge of the early approach of a German submarine.

State Strike Has No Connection with Traction Situation—Probability of General Sympathetic Strike Lessens.

New York, Sept. 29.—Ferry boats of the New York Central Railroad Co., plying between Manhattan and New Jersey were tied up during the rush hours late today by a strike of 150 employees on the boats for shorter hours and higher pay. The strike has no connection it was said with the traction situation.

Thousands of commuters left the city for their homes in New Jersey over roundabout routes.

Probability of a general sympathetic strike in aid of the traction employees who quit their places on September 6 lessened tonight with the announcement that a local brewery workers' union, whose 900 members truck in response to the call of labor leaders had voted to return to work. Officials of the union issued a statement in which it was said developments proved that organized labor "will not act in concert in behalf of the carmen."

The Amalgamated Association of Street & Electric Railway Employees took steps today to distribute strike benefits among the striking carmen. It was announced by James H. Fahy general consul of the association.

16 persons were injured, one seriously in a rear end collision between two surface cars in the Bronx this afternoon.

Marked improvement in surface car traffic was reported today with subway and elevated lines operating on normal schedules.

INTIMATE UNDUE EMPHASIS IS PLACED ON TAFT-T.R. MEETING

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Friends of Theodore Roosevelt are reported to have intimated to Chairman Wm. R. Wilcox of the Republican national committee that undue emphasis has been placed upon the fact that the Colonel and William Howard Taft will meet for the first time in the field of politics since the Progressive party was born in 1912 at the Union League club reception in honor of Charles E. Hughes next Tuesday night. The Colonel is an honorary member of the Union League club and accepted the invitation to the reception because it is to be given in honor of Mr. Hughes, it was explained. While he will shake hands with Professor Taft it will be the same manner of greeting as was extended when the only living former presidents of the country met a year ago at the funeral of Prof. Lounsbury at New Haven.

FIND HETTLINGER GUILTY

Chicago, Sept. 29.—Edward Hettlinger 79 years old, was found guilty tonight of having killed Mrs. Agnes Middleton last April. The jury fixed the penalty as hanging. Mrs. Middleton, a widow, was found dead in bed, her head crushed with a hammer and throat cut with a razor. Hettlinger lived next door and was mentally deficient. He confessed to the police but later repudiated the confession.

COMPROMISE DEMANDS.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 29.—The demands of the telegraphers of the B. & O. railroad for increased pay and better working conditions have been compromised. It was learned here today. By the agreement reached thru the intervention of the United Board of Mediation and Conciliation, the men will receive a salary advance of about eight per cent. They demanded 15 per cent.

ROUND UP SUSPICIOUS CHARACTERS

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Sept. 29.—Local police are rounding up all suspicious characters and have enlisted the assistance of citizens in an attempt to capture an unknown man, who is charged with criminal attacks upon four little girls within the past two weeks. In each case the man has lured the tots into vacant houses by gifts of candy and money. It is believed the man is a tramp.

ARREST KNOBLOCH.

New York, Sept. 29.—After a search by Federal Secret Service agents which as extended over the entire country, William Knobloch, who escaped from the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., on Aug. 19 with "Lieutenant" Robert Fay, convicted bomb plotter was arrested here tonight. He professed ignorance of the present whereabouts of Fay and declared they had no outside assistance in making their escape.

ARREST TWO SOLDIERS.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 29.—Two soldiers, who refuse to give their names, believed to be members of one of the regiments in camp here, were arrested this morning at Chatham, 12 miles south of here, charged with the theft of a cash register containing $125 from a restaurant here early this morning.

RAIN HAMPERS FIGHTING

Intense Fighting in Region of Korynitza in Russia Appears to Have Come to an End

REPULSE RUSSIAN ADVANCE

Steadily the British troops are pushing forward toward the Peronne-Bapaume road, the main artery immediately behind the German lines north of Comblies. After taking 500 yards of trenches southwest of Tesars, the British made additional progress in the capture of 500 yards of German trenches east of Lesbouffes.

The British occupancy of the territory between Thiepval and the Ancre is being contested strongly by the Germans. A German counter-attack after the entry of the British into a section of the Hessian trench, resulting in the forcing out of the holders. The section was regained later, however, by the British, London says. Heavy fighting also has occurred around the Staff redoubt.

Rain is hampering operations on the remainder of the Anglo-French front north of the Somme, according to official statements.

Paris mentions no activity after the advance between Fregicourt and Morval towards Sailly, on the Peronne-Bapaume road.

There has been no great activity on any of the other fronts in Europe except in Transylvania, where the Austro-Germans have repulsed the Rumanians at Hermannstadt. Vienna says the Teutonic forces also have occupied the heights east and south-east of the town after violent fighting. The battle in this section, however, has not yet been finished.

The intense fighting in the region of Korynitza, on the eastern front in Russia, appears to have come to an end. Berlin and Vienna say the Russian prisoners have increased to 41 officers and 3,900 men. The forces under Prince Leopold of Bavaria here also took two cannon and 33 machine guns. Berlin records the repulse of a Russian advance near Gudziszchki and Petrograd the defeat of a German attack near Gukalov. Fighting continues in the Carpathians, but there has been no change in the battle lines.

In Macedonia, the entente allied troops are withstanding Bulgarian attacks. The Serbians have checked four attacks against positions on the Kaimakcalan plateau and the French have withstood assaults along the Broda river.

DECIDES EARL COSSART IS NOT MISSING SON OF CHARLES GLASS

QUINCY, Ill., Sept. 29.—Chief of Police Koch after a further investigation of the identity of Earl Cossart, a boy thought to be Jimmy Glass, missing son of Charles Glass of Jersey City, N. J., late tonight telegraphed Mr. Glass that the Cossart boy was not his son. A photograph however will be sent to Mr. Glass for his inspection.

While there were marks of similarity the Cossart boy is said to be not more than four years old while the Glass boy was four and one half years old when he disappeared May 15, 1915.

M. E. Anniversary
Tomorrow Methodists throughout the country will observe the 150th anniversary of American Methodism under Philip Embury by special rally day services. The anniversary is of interest not alone to the Methodist church, marking as it does the growth of the great church. The history of that church is very closely identified with that of the United States and Methodism, with its great growth, has been an important factor in the preservation of American ideals of citizenship and religious liberty.

Necessity Mother of Invention
The discussion entered into so largely a few months ago relative to the importation of dyestuffs in this country had its effect and it has already been announced that now practically enough dyestuff to meet the demand is now being manufactured in this country. In one year in the past the United States imported 25,700 tons of artificial dye, the greater part from Germany. When the need came, because of the impossibility of securing the dyes from Germany, the condition acted as a spur to the American enterprise and the present condition of the industry resulted. This is one of the good effects of the war, showing manufacturers and business men of this country how to be even more independent than in the past.

Recurring Problems
Chicago's bathing beaches, which afforded so much benefit to the residents of that city during the extreme heat of the past summer, it seems have their disadvantages. The discovery has recently been made that at least 10,000 people in Chicago are suffering from infection of the nose, mouth or throat due to the swallowing of polluted lake water. Many sewers from suburban cities near Chicago empty into the lake and this condition contaminates the water near the bathing beaches. Two of the greatest problems which confront and stay with cities small and large are water supply and sewage disposal, and it is unfortunately a matter of record that these questions, even when apparently well settled, continually recur.

Seed Corn Week
The increasing attention given to agricultural and farm subjects generally is shown in Missouri, where the governor has officially designated seed corn week. This week will begin October 16 and the purpose is to encourage farmers to select their seed corn before the heavy frosts come and then properly house the ears. Experiments have shown that seed corn selected at the proper time and kept where the temperature will not be extremely low has better germinating qualities than corn carelessly selected. This is the first seed corn week for Missouri but the plan did not originate in that state. Legislatures and governors everywhere are reaching the common ground of knowing that all they can do to encourage the sanest methods of agriculture will result in widespread good to their states at large.

Rippling Rhymes

RUBBER TIRES.
Some soothing balm the soul requires, when one must fuss with rubber tires. I am a highly moral man; I guard my tongue the best I can; and if perchance, I cuss a streak, remorse lambasts me for a week. A model I would gladly be, to growing youth and infancy, and ere I got a motor car, my fame for virtue traveled far. But often now I may be seen, all bathed in sweat and gasoline, and spotted o'er with rancid grease, dispensing words that break the peace. I jack my car up with the lyre, and try to patch a busted tire, and while I labor in the ditch, I'm laughed at by the idle rich, who whiz along in pomp and state, and jeer the more unlucky skate. And as I toil with wrench and crank, I keep on saying "Blinky blank," and children toddling on their way give ear to smoky things I say, and as they leave, on learning bent, they whisper, "What a sinful gent!"

The Farmer and His Motor Car.
From the Cincinnati Times-Star.
An expert American financier has estimated that during the next twelve months not less than 1,500,000 automobiles of all kinds will be purchased in the United States. These cars added to the 3,000,000 already in use, will require 27,000,000 tires, allowing six tires per car per year. The total cost of the cars and up-keep, it is estimated, will reach a figure that will be staggering.

In some states there is today one car for every forty persons, while in certain smaller communities the average is much higher. If the increase keeps on, it will not be long before America will be awheel.

The automobile is becoming an increasingly important factor in farm life. It is rapidly reducing the isolation which once made the agriculturist more or less of an involuntary hermit. The motor car is beginning not only to mellow the farmer, but to expand the city man. The day when every farmer looked upon an automobile as an object for abuse has largely gone. Today your farmer gives the automobile half the road with good grace, for his own possession of a similar vehicle has reversed his prejudices.

There are 6,000,000 farm owners in the United States, and in time a very considerable part of them will either own motor cars or tractors of some sort. The greater the number of farmer-owners, the greater will be the enthusiasm with which agriculturists will support scientific road building. The time is not far distant when the old "two streaks of mud," which once constituted the rural highway will be a thing of the past. Instead of having merely a few main roads of high quality and bearing fancy names, we will have a general system of permanent pikes running in all directions, a network affording easy accessibility.

Women's Campaign Train.
Oct. 2, is the date set for the departure from New York of the memorable woman's campaign train the first in the history of an American Presidential campaign, and entirely managed and financed by women who will tour 29 states and more than 100 cities in the interest of the election of Charles E. Hughes. The women's committee of the Hughes Alliance is at the head of the project, and it is distinctly understood that this is not a "suffrage train," but a union of suffragists and antis, with the one object of electing Hughes.

Fifteen women speakers of national reputation will accompany the special, who have been selected in various fields, representing work in education, immigration, probation for offenders, and protection for women. Among them are Miss Frances Keller, Miss Maude Miner, Mrs. Raymond Robbins, Miss Mary Dreier, and Miss Helen Todd. Other notable women in charge of the affair are Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt and Mrs. Gifford Pinchot. The states the special will visit are Connecticut, Massachusetts, New York, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada, Arizona, Utah, Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, Indiana, Kentucky, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware and New Jersey. Automobile processions and receptions will be organized to meet the train in several cities. The political meetings will be presided over by men prominent in the life of the states visited, and the issues presented will be national. The journey will end the afternoon before election day, with a large rally in New York City.

Jacksonville and Morgan county is blessed by a number of true, good women, who are ever forward in work for the benefit of the community. Women who work and strive for the welfare of others without hope of reward other than the verdict of "well done," that may come after the years have proven the value of results of their endeavor. The persistent struggle they have made to prevent the spread of tubercular diseases, that dread scourge that for years was deemed incurable, is one of the most notable and commendable. Many of the people now fighting to eradicate and to prevent the spread of the great white plague have themselves looked down the valley of death, but by later day "fresh air" methods have been enabled to creep back onto the heights. Years ago there was a popular saying that the only hope of a consumptive to prolong life a few years was by the use of stimulants—whiskey—and that if the ailing one lived long enough he would die a drunkard—a choice only of two evils, and death the result in either case.

Today physicians know that tuberculosis is largely preventable, that fresh air, sanitary conditions and right living here in our own homes and climate may save thousands of victims of the disease.

The open air school in our city has already performed a grand work in the care of children afflicted. With right care and treatment in youth children may outgrow a tendency to the disease and grow up strong men and women. A large percentage of the children who have attended the open air school in the past few years have grown strong enough to take their places among normal children in the public schools this year.

Christ said "suffer little children to come unto Me," but He surely meant that they be given a right to live in health and strength until in the fulness of time they were gathered home. They deserve a chance for life and health—and there can be no enjoyment nor true happiness without health.

There will be an opportunity to vote a small assessment on each taxpayer this fall for the furtherance of the good work—to give each year a small amount to save life, to prevent suffering. We hope that every voter will thoroughly study the situation, investigate the good that has already been accomplished. We believe that if he does he will favor giving his mite toward the cause.

And the ladies have a right to vote on the question.

Farm Papers Regret State Fair Political Tendencies

The Illinois state fair which it is considered was managed this year by a very competent board, is being criticised somewhat in the agricultural papers of this and surrounding states. Journals like the Breeders' Gazette and the Wallace Farmer lament the fact that the fair seems to be devoted more largely to politics than to agriculture. The fair is held under the auspices of the state board of agriculture and the papers referred to take the well-founded position that agriculture and livestock interests should really hold the first place in interest. The Wallace Farmer in commenting on this point says:

"Against the combination of the large city and of the most active bunch of politicians in the western country, Illinois agriculture finds it rather difficult to secure adequate expression. The truth of this is well illustrated in the state fair, which was held at Springfield last week. The setting of the fair is good. The buildings are fine. The grounds are attractive and well suited to the purpose. The permanent improvements, in the way of paved and covered walks, connecting the buildings, make it comfortable for the visitors, to get about in all sorts of weather. It has not been a great many years since the Illinois State Fair was perhaps the best all-around state agricultural exposition in the west.

"Possibly remembrance of past glories leads us to make a more unfavorable mental comparison now. Certainly the fairs of this year and of last leave much to be desired from an agricultural standpoint. In the first place, the atmosphere is political rather than agricultural. This was accentuated this year because of the presence of Mr. Hughes, the Republican candidate for president. He attended the fair on Tuesday, and naturally drew thousands of people who had no particular interest in the fair itself, but were interested in seeing and hearing a presidential candidate. He drew a very large crowd into the grounds, and received a very enthusiastic reception at their hands. The live stock pavilion was packed with people anxious to hear him."

MATRIMONIAL

Lukens-Horn
Otto Lukens of Alexander and Miss Clara Horn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Horn residing one mile south of New Berlin, were married Thursday at St. John's Lutheran church in New Berlin. Rev. Henry Wittrock performed the ceremony. Miss Katherine Horn, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Miss Anna Lukens, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. George Lukens was the best man and Carl Horn and George Lukens the ushers. The bride's gown was of white satin with lace overdress and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her sweeping tulle veil was caught with orange blossoms. Miss Lukens and Miss Horn, maid of honor and bridesmaid, were gowned in pink satin and georgette crepe, and carried bouquets of pink and white roses.

While the guests were assembling Miss Elizabeth Horn gave a program of organ music and the organ notes were sounding softly as the ceremony progressed. An additional interest was given the occasion by the fact that it was just forty years before that the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Horn, were united in marriage. Following the ceremony the newlyweds left for an extended western trip and after their return they will be at home to their friends on the groom's farm eight miles southeast of New Berlin. There they will begin married life under very auspicious circumstances. The families of both are very well known in both Morgan and Sangamon counties. Among the guests present were William Lukens, Miss Laura Brune and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller of this city; Mr. and Mrs. George Basse of Loomis; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harting of St. Louis; Mr. and Mrs. P. Peddersen of Mt. Olive; Rev. J. M. Peddersen of Homewood, and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ariets of Florida.

NEW LUBRICANT RESISTS HEAT PREVENTS RAPID SEDIMENTATION

Ordinary oil breaks down under the terrific heat of an automobile engine. Within a few hours, black sediment is formed which partially crowds out the remaining liquid from the friction points where lubrication is most vital. Such under-supply of oil causes friction between the metal surfaces, intense heat, loss of power and expensive repairs.

The new lubricant that resists heat prevents rapid sedimentation, insures generous lubrication, and, except where mechanical faults exist, prevents carbon.

Relative Oil Destruction

The contents of the bottles shown, illustrate the relative durability of ordinary oil and of Vedol. The new lubricant that resists heat. Vedol deposits only a small fraction as much sediment as ordinary oils.

There is a fundamental difference between ordinary oils and Vedol. Ordinary oils are unstable and therefore unserviceable because of non-heat-resisting chemical structure. Special processes of manufacture developed by this company and the use of Pennsylvania paraffine-base crude oil give Vedol, the new lubricant, its unusual chemical structure, and its remarkable heat-resisting ability.

Make this test

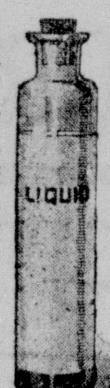

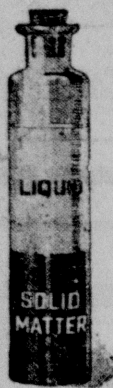

Clean out the crank case. Fill with kerosene. Run the motor about thirty seconds under its own power; then draw out all kerosene and refill with Vedol.

Now make a test run over a familiar road—up steep hills and along straight level stretches. Keep a record of oil and gasoline mileage.

You will find that your motor has altogether new pickup and hill climbing ability. Vedol enables you to get the maximum mechanical efficiency from your car and to reduce your expenses.

Get a five-gallon can of Vedol, and make this convincing road test.

C. H. Spieth of Tigerton, Wis., father of Otto Spieth and Fred Spieth of this city, wandered from his home two weeks ago and has not since been heard from. There was some suspicion of foul play as Mr. Spieth was for a number of years prominent in local politics and had from time to time formed unavoidable political enemies. No effort was spared in the search for the missing man and the members of his family feel more poignant grief than if their father were known to be dead.

THE PASSING OF AN HISTORIC FIGURE.

The Breeders' Gazette in a recent issue gives the following interesting sketch of the late Col. J. W.
Judy, who was for so many years a conspicuous figure in the agricultural and livestock affairs of Illinois. The Gazette properly refers to Col. Judy as "An historic figure."

"During the 'golden age' forty-five years ago of the American Shorthorn trade in the middle west a commanding and popular personality seen at most of the great auctions was Col. James W. Judy, the foremost live stock auctioneer of his day. His admiration for Shorthorns was warm, steadfast and contagious. It was Shorthorns that brought the rich bluegrass in Kentucky where he was born on May 8, 1822. They were the cattle of his boyhood. It was with a boy's heart that he loved them all the days of his long, useful and wholesome life.

"In the spring of 1874 at a remarkable series of spring sales Col.
Judy, then near the zenith of his distinguished power as an auctioneer, was "in the box" at the most of them. He made dozens of historic sales not only during the memorable days when the breed was in magnificent flower in the Mississippi Valley, but many years previously. He cried his first Shorthorn sale at Jacksonville, Ill., in August, 1856, for Judge Steven Dunlap. From the beginning of his extraordinary career as a live stock auctioneer until he was about 80 years of age, he officiated at most of the principal Shorthorn auctions in North America. He knew all the leading breeders, his knowledge of bloodlines and pedigree was cyclopedic in its range and accuracy, his simplicity, honesty, modesty, great-heartedness and spontaneous, common goodness made him a world of loyal friends, and his resourcefulness, sense of humor and native sagacity made him conspicuously successful.

"Col. Judy settled in Illinois when he was a young man. He had conducted numerous auctions of miscellaneous farm property before he left Clarke Co., Ky., where he was born and reared. He acquired a large farm near Tallula, Ill., the home of the late J. H. Spears, a pioneer Shorthorn breeder. It was and remains highly productive, charming in its topography, and surroundings. No man was more devoted or loyal than he to those interests and duties which pertain to a home. He was a home-loving man and a gentleman of the old school. His wife died many years ago. The farm came under the management of their only son and heir, Chas. C., and Col. Judy lived with his son and family at The Walnuts, retiring from the ring about fifteen years ago.

"On a beautiful morning in June, 1905, the writer was met upon arrival at Tallula by 'the fine old man' in his buggy, drawn by Ned, a spirited light harness horse. A Kentuckian, Col. Judy loved good horses, with style, speed and endurance. Ned was that kind of horse.
We shall never forget that great day, in the society of a fine-grained, affable, serene old nobleman, tidy in his dress, as sunny, talkative and vivacious as a boy, overflowing with a beautiful affection for everything, and an inspiring source of information concerning American Shorthorn history made during the last century. Col. Judy was then 83. We drove over to 'the old home,' some distance from the new residence, walked among grazing animals in rich pastures, and took a look at the foals. Col. Judy cornered one of them, and while fondling it we made a snapshot, with the result here reproduced. He loved children and animals as deeply and tenderly as any man we have ever known.

"Col. Judy was much more than an auctioneer with a national reputation. He was a good neighbor, a public-spirited citizen and a directing force in the agricultural organization and development of Illinois.

Madison, Wis.—Mrs. Oscar Day, of 1606 Monona Ave., Fair Oaks, this town, says: "Before my baby was born, I suffered terribly with womanly troubles and nervousness, and was living in a state of fear all the time.
One day, an old friend of mine, who, by the way, is a nurse, and goes around to all cases, brought me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and told me to keep on taking it right along. I did, and felt much better after the first bottle. I kept on taking it, and had as little trouble as anybody could wish for. Feeling very good now.

There never was a better medicine for women than Cardui, and I will recommend it to any one who is in need of it. This nurse uses Cardui with her patients, so it is well known all around here.

I am never without a bottle of Cardui in my home."
We urge you to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, for your troubles. It will help you over the hard places, just as it has thousands of other women.

Don't delay. Begin taking Cardui today. You won't regret it. ACBS

Thirty-five years ago he was president of the Illinois State Board of Agriculture, and his counsel years afterward was sought and prized by its members. He was personally active in the difficult work of establishing and building a state fair at Springfield, and in honor of his services in behalf of that institution one of the avenues in the grounds was given the appropriate name of Judy. Five years ago a delegation of members and former members of the board who were associated with him during his connection with it paid a surprise visit of compliment and respect to the veteran auctioneer at his home. At The Walnuts, on Sept. 16, the day on which the state fair opened at Springfield, the good, old man, honored and beloved of all who knew him, went to rest.
His years were numbered 94. His friendship for members of The Gazette staff was among their most cherished possessions; it heartened them for the struggle of dark days, and gave value and savor to the results. Such men live on in the sanctuaries of human hearts."

PLEASANT BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Ellis Henderson Reminded That He Was Forty Years Old Yesterday

Sept. 29, 1876, there was great rejoicing in the home of C. P. Henderson on the home place in Arcadia precinct for a young son and heir appeared to gladden the hearts of the worthy parents. They decided to call him Ellis E. and proceeded at once to rear him in the fear of the Lord and to be a first class citizen and how well they succeeded a great number of the gentleman's friends will gladly testify.

Dr. C. W. Craig was the attending physician and has been dead a long time but is well remembered by Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Henderson and many others of Arcadia as well as of this city.

The boy was carefully reared and sent to the home school till he acquired all he could there and then he manifested a taste for city life and his father sent him to the Jacksonville business college and while he was attending that school he made an arrangement to clerk in L.
Seeburger's clothing store Saturdays and there found his sphere.

He finished the course at the business college and then put in all his time as a clerk. When Mr. Seeburger died Mr. Henderson went to Springfield where he remained a year and then came back to Jacksonville and was in another store a short time when he again secured a situation with Myers Brothers and has been with them ever since, a valued, reliable, capable and popular salesman. It is not likely that any clerk in the city has a greater number of friends than Ellis yet he bears his honors meekly and never puts on airs in any way.

Like a sensible man he took to his heart and home a life partner and has a charming young daughter, Miss Mildred and a promising son, Clifford. His home is happy and he is a dutiful and affectionate husband and father. He belongs to Urania Lodge 1. O. O. F. and Ridgely Encampment, Harmony Lodge A. F.
& A. Masons and the Jacksonville Lodge of Elks. He is a leading member of Urania's famous degree team which has won such signal honors among the order all over this part of the country.

As the date of his birth approached his parents and others thought it but proper to celebrate it and also wisely decided that a surprise would be the best so accordingly his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Henderson, of Litterberry, his aunt, Mrs. J. A.
Crum and husband, his brother Elmer and wife and sister, Mrs. Lottie Hatches and husband and daughter, all armed themselves with a goodly amount of the delicious things of life and duly appeared at the residence of the unsuspecting family.

Mrs. Henderson entered fully into the spirit of the occasion and made everything ready and when Ellis arrived home for dinner his astonishment was unbounded. He braced himself against the door post and didn't faint and shortly proceeded to take in the situation and enjoy it fully and do justice to the superb dinner. It was truly a happy occasion and all passed off well. Mr.
Henderson was remembered in other ways beside the dinner and is fully satisfied that he stands well with his kith and kin as well as with the public.

RICH MAN VICTIM OF VENDETTA

Boston, Sept. 29.—The deep, impenetrable mystery of an Italian vendetta enshrouds a tragedy that has held the people of Boston and scarcely less closely that of all New England since Wednesday night of last week, when Gaspare DiCola, wealthy fruit importer, head of the local committee of the Italian Red Cross, and widely known for his philanthropies among the Italians of Boston, was slain from ambush as he was about to enter his home in the fashionable section of Brookline.

At the time of the murder DiCola was returning home with his wife from an entertainment in Boston.
Within a moment after the couple had alighted from a car two men stepped swiftly from the shadow of a doorway and fired five shots at DiCola, all of which took effect. The victim died in the hospital at an early hour the next morning. Those closest to him are sure that he knew the identity of his murderers, but he died without revealing his knowledge. It has also been intimated that the wife of the victim might possibly throw some light on the identity of the slayers and the motives for their deed, but so far she has revealed nothing that would aid the authorities in clearing up the mystery.

From the start the police have worked on the theory that the murder was done in revenge by an agent of some secret society that had marked DiCola for destruction. The motive, in the opinion of the police, was revenge. Business associates of the murdered man assert that he was very uncommunicative regarding his business and personal affairs altho he had a reputation in all his transactions of being the "soul of honor." All are of the opinion that the tragedy was the result of a vendetta, probably something of an ancient origin.

The mystery of DiCola's murder has been complicated by the revelation of a romance connected with his early days in the little Sicilian town of which he was a native. More than 25 years ago, so the story runs DiCola fell in love with a pretty Sicilian girl, a native of the village, an employee in the macaroni factory owned by DiCola's father.
The girl was poor and DiCola was the college bred son of one of the town's wealthiest families, according to the story.

Both families discouraged marriage between the two. The girl finally married Maurice Bova, a peasant. They had two children, but the woman's love for DiCola overpowered her love for her babies, and on his part he was willing to sacrifice money and position to have the girl of his heart.

The couple crept from the little village one night and came to America. The mother brought one child with her. The other, it is said, was left with the father. The child brought to America died.

The other child, who had been left behind, is the person who is said to have revealed the story of DiCola's early romance and alleged elopement. Antonio Bova, as is his name, followed his mother to America in early youth. Pava, now employed as a barber in a town adjacent to Boston, says that for years it was his aim to have his mother and DiCola united in marriage as Catholics. A year ago his last endeavor failed and since that time he had not spoken to either of them.

It is thought that the secret of the elopement sealed the murdered man's lips on his death bed. He was conscious up to the last and made his will an hour before his death. Following the affixing of the required cross on the document, his lawyer urged him to reveal the identity of his assassin. The dying man gritted his teeth, closed his eyes and refused to answer.

There is reason to suspect that shortly before the tragedy DiCola had seen or learned something that gave him a foreboding of his impending doom. On the day of the shooting he had attended a meeting of the Red Cross committee at Tremont Temple. Several of his friends and co-workers in philanthropic work noticed that he was very nervous while on the platform of the meeting. He seemed unusually pale and said very little. While these associates have been unable to throw any light on the tragedy, all appear to agree with the police that the murder was the result of a vendetta, the threads of which had their origin across the seas in the days of long ago.

BROKE THE WINDOW.

Shortly before noon yesterday the clerk in the front end of the Kresge store heard a fall and a crash of glass and looking out saw a woman who had fallen backward against the north show window and had smashed the glass about twenty inches above the pavement. She managed to get up and away before her identity was discovered and they have no idea whatever who she was. Either her head or her elbow struck the glass and how she could fall hard enough to break it and then hasten away is a mystery. The glass is fully a fourth of an inch in thickness and strong.

DETROIT CANNOT TIE BOSTON

IN AMERICAN PENNANT RACE

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Detroit cannot even tie Boston in the American League pennant race now, though Boston should lose all its four remaining games and Detroit should win the two left on its card. The standing would be—Boston; 89 won, 65 lost; Detroit 88 won, 66 lost.

Chicago still has a chance to win providing Boston will lose all remaining games and Comiskey's men win their four with Cleveland now to be played Saturday and Sunday. The standing:
Boston 89 61 .59333
Chicago 86 64 .57333
Detroit 86 66 .56579

There was no change in the National League on account of all games of possible effect in the final standing being stopped by rain.

NUMBER OF 'VARSITY ELEVEN' WILL SWING INTO ACTION TODAY

Princeton, Yale, Army, Navy, Colgate, Pennsylvania U., Syracuse and Brown Among More Important Teams to Engage in Contests.

New York, Sept. 29.—A number of 'Varsity eleven' will swing into action tomorrow, the second Saturday of the eastern gridiron season of 1916. Among the more important teams to engage in their initial contests are Princeton, Yale, Army, Navy, Colgate, University of Pennsylvania, Syracuse and Brown. None of these eleven is called upon to face formidable opponents, and a majority are to play teams which did not appear in the 1915 list of games.

Principal interest will attach to the showing made by the Pennsylvania, Yale and Princeton combinations in their opening games as two of these three eleven will appear under the direction of new coaches. The Eli players will have their first opportunity to show what progress has been made under the direction of Tad ones, and the same is true of Pennsylvania, where Bob Folwell now reigns supreme in the coach's position. "Speedy" Rush is no longer a novelty at Princeton.

Princeton will open her season by playing Holy Cross at Worcester. The latter eleven defeated the Connecticut Aggies 7 to 0 last Saturday and should be able to give Princeton strong opposition. Yale will face the Carnegie Institute team and the Pittsburgh players are expected to offer resistance enough to demonstrate what progress Yale has made under Coach Jones.

The University of Pennsylvania eleven will have West Virginia as an opponent in the first of the regular scheduled games at Franklin field. The Pennsylvania team has played two practice contests against minor combinations and won both in easy fashion but expect a much harder struggle tomorrow.

Both the Army and Navy eleven will also make their debut meeting Lebanon Valley and Dickinson college combinations respectively. Harvard and Dartmouth play their second games tomorrow. Harvard will line up against Bates while Dartmouth will have the Boston college team as opponents. Cornell will not get into action until next week.

Other important games include Rutgers vs. Villa Nova; Colgate vs. Susquehanna; Amherst vs. Middlebury; Brown vs. Rhode Island; Syracuse vs. Groce City and Wesleyan vs. Connecticut Aggies.

SPORT CHATTER

The Worcester club led the Eastern league in batting this season, and finished fifth in the league pennant race.

Gladstone Graney and Ty Cobb are battling all the way for the lead among the American league runners.

Eleven regulars in the American league and eight in the National league are batting for .300 or better.

Pitcher Holand of Detroit has forced Nick Cullop, the Yankee twirler out of first place in the list of American league pitchers.

Joe Jackson, third man in the American league batting averages, is 20 points ahead of Hal Chase, the National league leader.

Billy Miske, the St. Paul middleweight, will clash with Battling Levinsky at the Clermont club in Brooklyn on Columbus Day.

The Chicago White Sox have lost Kopp, whom they drafted from Buffalo. The Boston Red Sox have copied Kopp thru purchase prior to the draft.

Charley Barrett, all-American quarterback and star griddier at Cornell last year, has signed with a Pittsburgh eleven made up of former college stars.

The Milwaukee Brewers have clinched the cellar championship of the American association all three ways: last in team standing, last in team batting and last in team fielding.

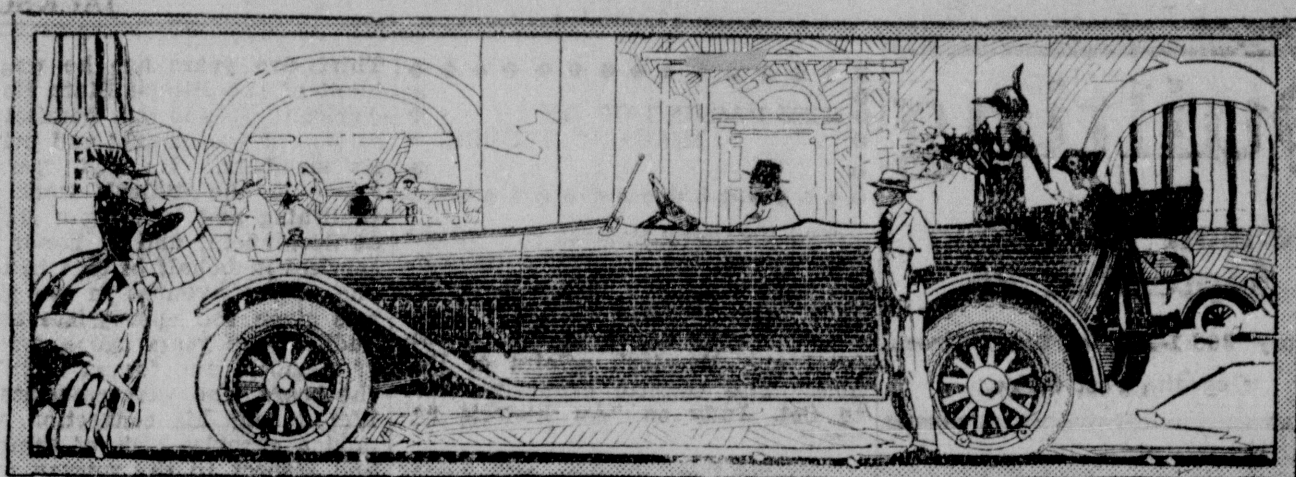

William J. L'Heureux of San Francisco, who holds the national amateur heavyweight title, is to enter the professional ranks. He boxes under the name of "Bill Larue."

About the most interesting pugilistic clash in prospect just now is the proposed bout between Champion Freddie Welsh and Johnny Dundee. Welsh has been boss of the lighties for several years now, so perhaps Johnny is hooking up at the right time.

Coach Paul Withington, assisted by Ed Seacy, Dick Kink and Jack Doherty, is working day and night with the Wisconsin football squad. If being tutored by an all-American gridiron king counts for anything then the Badgers should come thru right side up.

Cornell grads would like to make the Harvard game, rather than the contest with Pennsylvania, the big game of the Cornell football schedule.

The Williams college football team was riddled of stars thru graduation last spring. The team lost Plante, Garfield, Brown, Oxterton, Tompkins and Wright. Now that Fred Mitchell has signed a three-year contract with the Braves, Harvard will have to get busy and find another baseball coach. Fred turned out a crack Crimson team this year, but he evidently figures that his prospects in professional ball are better than in the college game.

ILLINOIS DEFEATS BLACKBURN EASILY

LOCALS WIN OPENING GAME BY 48 TO 0 SCORE

Harmon Sends in Entire Second Team With Exception of Frisbie in Second Period—Visitors Do Not Show Much of a Team.

Illinois College opened the 1916 football season on Illinois field Friday afternoon by defeating Blackburn by a score of 48 to 0. It was really no game at all.

When the game began Coach Harmon started the regular team and touchdowns were made so fast that he was afraid the reporters would run out of paper and began sending in second team men. After the second team had made two touchdowns Coach Harmon sent in all of the substitutes he had in uniform. Even these men held Blackburn safe and only a few times did they make first down. It is probable that had the first team played the full game that Illinois would have broken the record for high scores.

The work of his men must have looked good to Harmon. The first team played as one man and it only took one or two plays to put the ball over for a touchdown. For the most part the team tried line plays and end runs. Only one forward pass was tried and that was successful and resulted in a touchdown. The second team and the substitutes tried a number of forward passes and succeeded with several of them.

Blackburn did not show much of a team. It would have trouble beating a good high school team. The team was unable to gain thru Illinois line and most of the forward passes were broken up. However, it was on the forward pass that most of Blackburn's gains were made.

On the offensive Wilson, Jones, Mitchell, B. Whisler and Helme showed great form in advancing the ball while on the defense, Capt. Frisbie stopped every play around his end and Rendlemen also played a good game at the other end. The line held as a stone wall. Among the substitutes Barnes, E. RESTRAINING INFLUENCES HAMPER BUT DO NOT CHECK PROGRESS

Current Reports Add to Accumulated Evidence of Prosperity in Industry, Trade and Transportation

New York, Sept. 29—Dunn's tomorrow will say:

Restraining influences hamper but do not check progress current reports adding to the accumulated evidence of prosperity in industry, trade and transportation. Holiday observances have had the usual effect of temporarily limiting business in some branches and labor conditions still restrict manufacturing operations; yet bank clearings at most leading centers, as well as at the smaller cities, mount upward steadily and other statistical barometers also make gratifying exhibits. The high and rising prices constitute a source of complaint and cause hesitancy in forward commitments, but the purchasing power is sustained by the full employment of workers at advanced wages and signs of contraction in consumption are the exception. It is not worthy that demands are broadening in practically every direction, following the partial let-up in midsummer, and retail distribution, under the stimulus of recent cool weather has developed in a way that foreshadows a record movement during the fall and winter.

Weekly bank clearings $4,879,397,486.

A large assortment of choice styles Ladies and Children's Wool CAPS and SCARF SETS are shown by FRANK BYRNS Hat Store.

A CONVENIENT ARTICLE.

Herbert Henderson is making a very convenient and handsome article for the use of ladies who do their sewing themselves. It is called a model sewing screen and is made of two panels which fold just like a screen and are quite ornamental. They are hung at one side and each is about three feet high and twenty inches wide. On the inside of each are all manner of conveniences: pin cushion, all kinds of pockets for articles large and small; hooks for the hanging of scissors and other articles and other features make it a beautiful and useful article. They are to be seen at the store of Andre & Andre and attract much attention.

SAVE THE WASTE PAPER.

A well known merchant said yesterday that the waste paper bales he has bought for twelve dollars has saved and brought him at least fifty dollars with no outlay of money and the time saving and baling the paper was hardly missed. Now that paper is such a desideratum every one should see to it that it is saved as far as possible. A baler would pay almost any merchant doing a fair amount of business.

The Workmen Come to Wire Benton's House

"Is this where the Bentons live?"

"Yes."

"Well, we're from the Jacksonville Railway and Light Company."

"Oh, yes, Mr. Benton said you'd be here today to begin the wiring. Come right in—will I have to take up any of the rugs or move the furniture out of the way?"

"No indeed, Mrs. Benton. It's very little muss that we make. It used to be that an old house was almost impossible to wire, but with improved tools and up-to-date methods, the job isn't nearly so hard as a person would naturally think. We just make a few openings in the walls and ceilings and 'fish' the wires through between the partitions. People are beginning to find that houses already built are not so difficult to wire, after all.

Two and one-half days later, the job of wiring was finished, the fixtures bought and the current turned on.

(The Bentons will soon tell us about their first impression of Electric Service. Watch this space in tomorrow's Journal.)

WILLIAM BATZ WILL RETIRE AFTER LONG BUSINESS CAREER

Thirty Five Years in One Location is His Record—Will Devote Time to Property Interests.

A business change has just been announced affecting one of the long time business firms of the city. Wm. Batz is to retire from the Batz cafe and the business will hereafter be owned and operated by F. L. Batz and Robert Stice. Altho not an old man, William Batz has been in business at the present location on East State street for thirty-five years. He came to Jacksonville in 1865 with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Batz.

The parents were natives of Werninghausen, Germany, and came to America immediately following their marriage. Their home was established first in Wisconsin and after a residence there of fourteen years they came to Jacksonville. William Batz, the son, was six years old at that time.

After attending local schools, Mr. Batz was employed for several years at the Morgan Roller mills under the management of George Landers. After his marriage to Miss Emma Mayers they removed to Colorado Springs in 1880. It was the year following that they returned to Jacksonville and Mr. Batz went into business with his father. That partnership continued until 1895, when the father retired and the firm became William & F. L. Batz. The east room of the two Batz buildings on East State street was purchased from Ike Sierier, one of the early residents of Jacksonville and at one time sheriff. The west room was once the property of Abner Yates. Both buildings were remodeled in 1888.

Mr. Batz has paid strict attention to business for thirty five years and has succeeded in an unusual way. He does not intend to entirely retire from work but leaves the cafe in order to take some rest and to devote his attention to other work. Aside from owning some city property, Mr. Batz has a farm of 245 acres in the Sinclair neighborhood and a smaller tract in the Nortonville neighborhood.

Since the days of his young manhood Mr. Batz has been connected with the German Lutheran church and has been one of the most active members. For a considerable period he served as church organist and has long been both a trustee and an elder. He has always had the deserved reputation of strict integrity and ranks as one of Jacksonville's substantial citizens.
